MISCELLANEOUS READING. "DO YOU THINK HE IS MARRIED!

Madam-you are very pressing, And I can't decline the task;

With the slightest gift of guessing, You would hardly need to ask. Don't you see a hint of marriage

In his sober sided face? In his rather careless carriage And extremely rapid pace? It he's not committed treason,

Or some wicked action done.

Can you see the faintest reason Why a bachelor should run! Why should he be in a flurry? But a loving wife to greet, Is a circumstance to hurry

The most dignified of feet!

When afar the man has spied her, It the grateful, happy elf Does not haste to be beside her, He mu-t be beside himself. It is but a trifle, may be-

But observe his practised tone, When he calms your stormy baby, Just as it it were his own! Do you think a certain meekness

You have mentioned in his looks.

Is a chronic optic weakness That has come of reading books? Did you ever see his vision Peering underneath a hood, Save enough for recognition,

As a civil person should? Could a capauchin be colder When he glances, as he must, At a finely rounded shoulder,

Or a proudly swelling bust? Madam-think of every feature, Then deny it if you can-He's a fond connubial creature, And a very married man!

JOHN G. SAXS The subscription in behalf of the poet-beggar, Lamartine, amount to seven bundred thousand france; but because it has not reached two millions, the spoilt child of fortune threatens to quit France forever! Sunposing the above sum is devoted to his debte, Lamartine will still have the yearly pension of 25,000 france from the Sultan, and an income of 35,000 france from his wife's fortuge -in all, 60,000 france, or about $12,000,--A Paris correspondent of the Philadelphia Bulletin says the poet's intellectual faculties have become impaired.

Four Presidents of the United States, viz: Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, and Tyler, were educated at William and Mary College. The Secret Society of the Phi Beta Kappa originnated at this college about 1775. The affili-ated Society of Harvard received its charter from that source: The original, however, was interrupted by the revolutionary war .--It has been revived since 1850, and is now in active operation, with the old records restored to the society. They had passed into the care of the Historical Society of Virginia and were safely kept.
